In general, the Company employs the Associate and the Associate desires to continue his/her employment to render services on behalf of the Company, subject to the supervision and direction of the his / her duly authorized designee.

Non-Disclosure of Confidential Information and Non-Competition

The Associate agrees that the provisions herein are reasonably necessary to protect the proprietary rights of the Company in Confidential Information and its trade secrets, goodwill, and reputation.

During the Associate's employment with the Company, the Associate shall not directly or indirectly:

- perform services of any nature or in any capacity whatsoever for any business, person, or entity which is engaged in product lines which compete with and/or which is in competition with the Company or any of its holding Company or its subsidiary;
- engage in any product lines which compete with the Company, Easy Insights

(1) The Associate acknowledges that it is the policy of the Company to maintain as secret and confidential all Confidential Information as hereinafter defined. "Confidential Information" shall mean any information, not generally known in the Company's industry which gives the Company a competitive advantage in the industry, heretofore or hereafter acquired, discovered, developed, conceived, originated, used or prepared by the Company or by an Associate of the Company as the result of employment with the Company and which falls within the following general categories:

I. information relating to trade secrets of the Company or any customer of the Company;
II. information relating to existing or contemplated products, services, technology, designs, processes, manuals, formulas, computer systems and/or software, and any research or development of the Company or any customer of the Company;
III. information relating to business plans, sales or marketing methods, methods of doing business, customer lists, customer usages and/or requirements, and supplier information of the Company or any customer of the Company
IV. information relating to work products in general and
V. any other Confidential Information that either the Company or any customer of the Company may wish to protect by patent, copyright or by keeping it secret and confidential.

(2) The Associate recognizes that the services to be performed by the Associate are special and unique, and that by reason of his/her duties, he/she will acquire Confidential Information. The Associate recognizes that all such Confidential Information is the property of the Company. In consideration of the Company's entering into this annexure, the Associate agrees that:

I. the Associate shall never, during the term of his/her employment or thereafter, directly, or indirectly, use, publish, disseminate, or otherwise disclose any Confidential Information obtained in connection with his/her employment by the Company without the prior written consent of the Company, it being understood that this subparagraph shall survive the termination of the Associate's employment with the Company;
II. during the term of his/her employment by the Company, he/she shall exercise all due and diligent precautions to protect the integrity of the Company's customer lists, mailing lists and sources thereof, statistical data and compilations, agreements, contracts manuals or other documents embodying any Confidential Information and, upon termination of his/her employment, he/she shall return all such documents and any copies thereof, in his/her possession or control.

III. He/she shall exercise the very same standards to protect any Confidential Information and shall never, directly or indirectly, use publish, disseminate or otherwise disclose any Confidential Information obtained in connection with his/her employment, it being understood that this subparagraph shall survive termination of the Associate's employment with the Company.

(3) Upon the termination of the Associate's employment, the Associate shall immediately deliver to the Company all the books, records, memoranda, reports, data, and documents relating to the Company's business and customers and other assets of the Company in the possession, custody or under the control of the Associate, whether or not such material contains Confidential Information.

I. During the Non-Competition Period (as hereinafter defined), the Associate shall not in any way, be engaged, directly or indirectly, anywhere within the India (or for such lesser period of time or for such lesser geographical areas as may be determined by arbitration to be a reasonable limitation on the competitive activities of the Associate) during such period as an Associate, partner, officer, director, representative, consultant, agent or stockholder of any corporation, partnership, proprietorship or other form of business entity engaged in the business of designing and developing products or services similar to the products or services of the Company, or Partner, or Client with whom the Company is engaged (or was engaged in for up to twelve (12) months before the day of resignation) in business.

II. During the Non-Competition Period, the Associate hereby covenants and agrees not to (a) employ, either directly or through an affiliate, any current employee of the Easy Insights or any individual who was an employee of Easy Insights during the preceding twelve (12) months, and (b) solicit, or contact in any manner that could reasonably be construed as a solicitation, either directly or through an affiliate, any employee of the Easy Insights for purposes of encouraging such employee to leave or terminate his or her employment with Easy Insights.

III. For purposes of this annexure, the "Non-Competition Period" shall mean the period commencing on the date hereof and ending twelve (12) months after the date that the Associate's employment hereunder is terminated (or for such lesser period of time as may be determined by arbitration to be a reasonable limitation on the competitive activities of the Associate)

IV. The Associate acknowledges that any breach or threatened breach or alleged breach or alleged threatened breach by him/her of the provisions can cause irreparable harm to the Company for which the Company would have no adequate remedy at law. In the event of a breach or threatened breach or an alleged breach or alleged threatened breach by the Associate of any of such provisions, the Company, in addition to any and all other rights and remedies it may have under these terms or otherwise, and notwithstanding the arbitration hereof, may immediately seek any judicial action that the Company may deem necessary including, without limitation, the obtaining of temporary and preliminary injunctive relief.

Best Wishes from Easy Insights.
